3.2 PR-TO-PO FLOW

Procurement Type – Overview

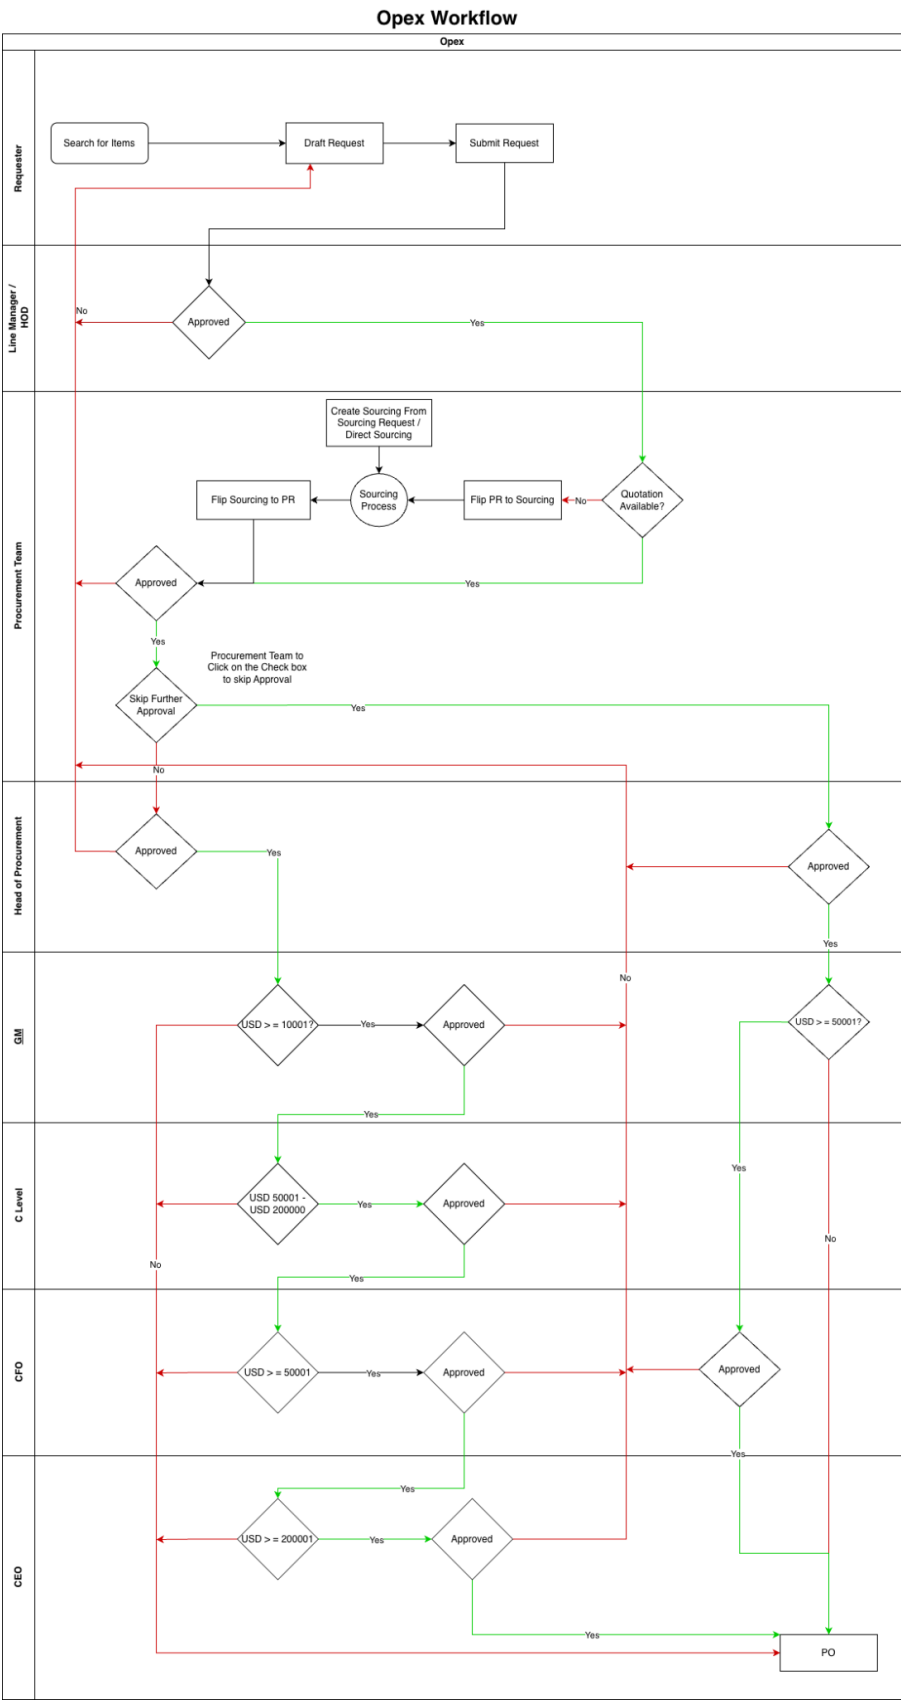

The procurement process is categorized into two primary types based on the nature of the purchase:

1. Capex / Fixed Asset Procurement (Goods):
This type involves capital expenditure and acquisition of fixed assets.
2. OPEX (Operational Expenditure):
Operational purchases are segmented into services and ad hoc/non-inventory goods procurement.

This structured approach helps ensure traceability, compliance with financial categorization, and alignment with budgeting and operational planning practices.

Business Requirement Document (BRD) – Coupa Purchase-to-Order & Goods Receiving

(Reference to the Raid Log S.No :210)

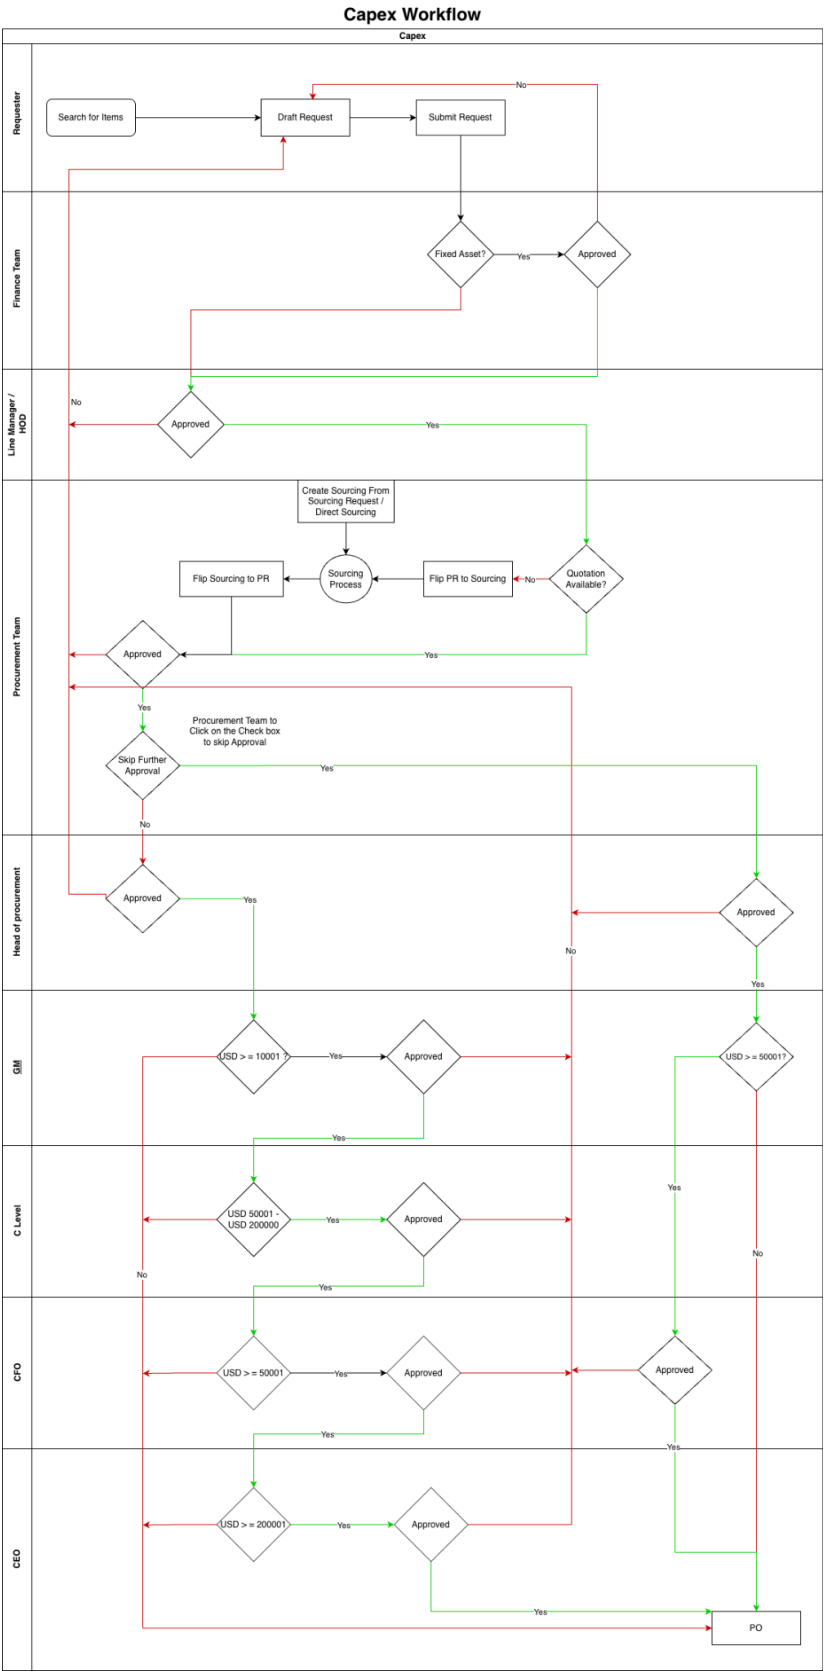

Process	Description
Draft PR	The requester will search for the required items in the search bar and add the required items in their cart. Post this, the requester will fill up the remaining details required on the PR header and line. Different method in which the items can be searched and added to the basket. 1) By Item Name - The Catalogue Item can be searched by the Item name in the search bar 2) By Commodity- The Catalogue Item can be searched by the commodity in the search bar 3) Form Name – The Requisition form can be searched by the form name in the search bar.
Type of Purchase	The type of Purchase to be selected is 'Opex'.
Quotation Check	The requester indicates if a quotation is available. If not, the PR is routed to the sourcing team for RFx execution within Coupa.
Budget Status	The requester indicates if a Budget is available or not.
Submit the PR	Once all the details are filled, click on Submit. When the requester fills up all the information in the PR and clicks on the submit button, the system will run a validation on the information submitted and pop-up errors on the top of the PR screen describing the error. This is to ensure that users do not submit incorrect PRs. If the PR value exceeds the total budget allocated, the requester will not be able to submit the PR for Approval. They would lease with FP&A team to check on the Budget allotments. (Reference to the Raid Log S.No :110145)
Line Manager / HOD	Once a Purchase Requisition (PR) is submitted for approval, it is routed to the Line Manager as the first approver. The Line Manager reviews the PR and either approves it or, if modifications are required, rejects it with comments. The PR is then returned to the requester for the necessary amendments.
Sourcing Process	For PRs without quotation, the buyer initiates sourcing in Coupa. Upon completion, sourcing results are flipped back to the PR. The other scenario will also be the same if the Sourcing is initiated from Sourcing request Form, and then the PR is created in Coupa.
Procurement Team	The Buyer reviews the Purchase Request (PR) to determine whether a sourcing process needs to be initiated or if the PR can be approved directly using the attached quotations. If the PR is converted into a sourcing event and all award approvals for the sourcing process are completed, the Buyer may select the “Skip Approval” checkbox on the requisition before approving the PR. This allows the Buyer to bypass duplicate approval steps and streamline the process.
Skip Approval	Once Skipped Approval, the approval workflow will follow the Head of Procurement and CFO (is >= USD 50,001). In this case the requester will be added as a watcher. (Reference to the Raid Log S.No :210)

Business Requirement Document (BRD) – Coupa Purchase-to-Order & Goods Receiving

Head of Procurement	For the standard workflow without skipping the Approvals, the PR is routed through Coupa's approval LoA for approval from Head of Procurement.
Approvals as per the limits	The Approval flow routes to GM, C Level, CFO and CEO based on approval limits. The same is embedded in the flow above.
PO Creation & Transmission	Once all the approvers approve the Purchase Requisition, Coupa automatically generates the Purchase Order (PO) after PR approval. The PO is transmitted to the supplier via the configured transmission method (e.g., CSP, cXML, Email).

3.7 PO CHANGES AND PO CANCELLATIONS

When the buyers send a PO to the supplier, there will be times when the buyer would have to amend the PO which is already sent or cancel the PO completely. In these cases, Coupa does allow users with this access to change the PO or completely cancel it. There would be approvals same as the approval designed for the PR approval(for price change), post which the supplier will receive the updated PO. For Minor changes (Need by date, billing) the PO will route to Procurement buyer for Approval. For PO cancellation we have approvals and the system should not allow the buyer to cancel any PO with GRN, or payments released.

3.9 GOODS RECEIPT

Receipt is an integral part of the P2P process and records the delivery of a good or service ordered. It may also be used for downstream financial reconciliation and invoice matching before a payment is made to a supplier for the good or service provided.

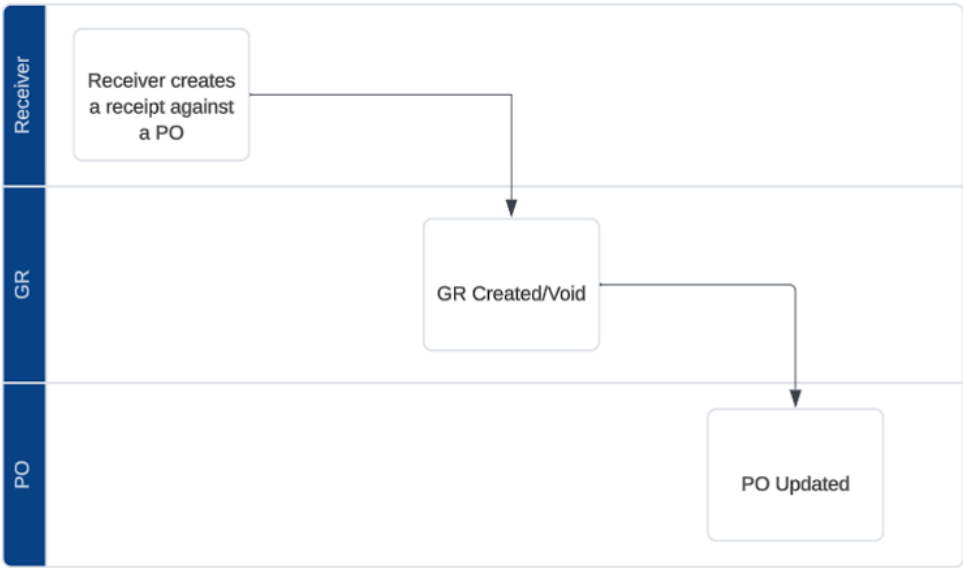

Coupa can also control if a user can receive their own requisitions (referred as desktop receiving) or receive against POs created by other users (central receiving). The PO line is updated with the received quantity once a receipt is created in the system.

Receipts can be created for Requisitions and POs

Depending on the requirements, Coupa provides the flexibility to

- Receive multiple items within the same transaction using quick receipt or desktop receiving.
- Receipts can also be performed via email.
- Perform receipts on a mobile device using the Coupa mobile app (desktop receiving)
- In case of any user error or mistake, a receipt can be fully or partially voided. The PO line received quantity, or amount will be updated based on the voided quantity or amount.

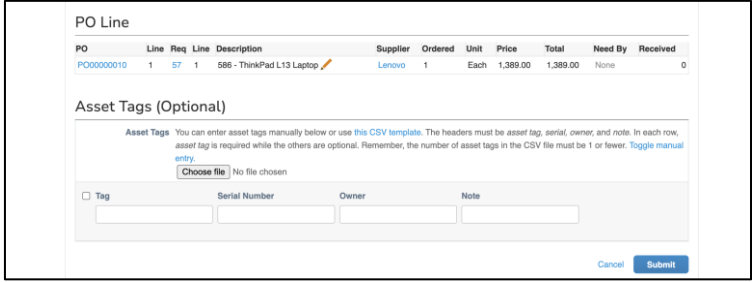

The receipt can be returned to the supplier if there are any issues with the item received.

Goods Receipt Process Flow

Process	Description
Receiver creates a receipt against a PO/PR	The receiver in CARSOME who is responsible for receiving the goods/services delivered by the supplier, will receive the quantity in Coupa

Business Requirement Document (BRD) – Coupa Purchase-to-Order & Goods Receiving

GR Created	The requester has an option to completely receive or partially receive the items which are received from the supplier. The process for partial receiving would be the same as completely receiving the items. Asset Tagging: The requester will tag the assets for the CAPEX-type requisition and add the assets by bulk uploading the asset details.  (Reference to the Raid Log S.No :116,133)
PO Updated	Post a successful GR, the PO document will get updated accordingly with the GR.
Receiver voids existing GR	There would be times when the requester would be required to void the GR which was created. In this case, the requester would come into the system and void the GR. Note: In case the PO is already invoiced, Coupa will not allow the voiding of receipts. If the payment is not released against the existing GRN, Finance should cancel the invoice to allow the requestor to amend or cancel the voids GRN.

Note: There will be no Approval workflow for the GR process.

Central Receiving role to be enabled for Emergency Receiving to be completed on PO only to Procurement Team.

3.10 DEFINATION

3.10.1 CATALOG

Hosted Catalog

These Catalog are loaded into Coupa, so users can search for and add items to their cart directly within the platform. Items in hosted Catalog appear in your results when searching from the Coupa home page.

3.10.2 ORDER LIST

Order lists can be used to create a list or set or kit of frequently requested items within a supplier Catalog.

The requesters can adjust the desired quantities you want for each item. and then click Add to Cart.

Creating Order Lists

Find this screen in Coupa: Setup > Purchasing Tools > Order Lists.

From here, you can manage your Order Lists table in Coupa. Users with access to this table can view and edit order lists that are otherwise locked to other users. You can also create order lists directly from this screen.

The requester can configure the visibility of an order list while creating an order list. They can restrict this to themselves only or make it available to everyone or specific members as per their content groups.

Order Lists - Multi-Supplier Order Lists

- When creating a new order list, you'll see a pop-up window that has the following fields:
- "Any supplier" - Choosing this option will allow the current user to add any supplier item they have access to purchase to their new order list.
- "Only these suppliers" - Filling in one or more suppliers in this field will restrict the order list to only those items the selected suppliers offer for purchase to the current user.
- "Add All Available Supplier Items" - If there are fewer than 500 available supplier items across all suppliers you have selected to allow on this order list; you have the option to add all available supplier items by checking the box. If there are more than 500 available supplier items, you will be asked to create a blank order list and add supplier items one at a time.
- After you have created the order list, if you have chosen to narrow the order list to just a few suppliers, the supplier names will show at the top of the order list. If you have chosen to allow any supplier on this order list, this area will be hidden.
- To add more supplier items to your order list, simply click "Add Line" at the bottom of the order list. You can first narrow by supplier if you find that there are too many items to scroll through at once.

3.11 PENDING BUYER ACTION

Buyer action is a status that requisitions get sent to if they require more information. All users with the buyer role that have access to the accounts on a requisition get notified that it has entered buyer action. Coupa requires one of them to complete the missing information and submit it to the approval chain.

You can choose to route requisitions to buyers if:

- They've typed a new supplier, which Coupa created in Draft status.
- No contract is specified, and you want a buyer to apply one.

Requisitions always route to buyer action if:

- Part of the billing assignment is missing.
- A ship-to address is missing.
- Either Payment Term or Shipping Term on any line is inactive. If they are not required, it is OK for them to be missing.
- Custom fields on either the header or the lines have values that are inactive. Custom fields are Lookups, Users, and Approval Groups. If any custom field has a value that points to an inactive reference, then the buyer must review and update that value.
- Any line has an invalid value in one of the following fields:
 - Unit Price
 - Description
 - Supplier Quantity and UOM (for quantity type lines)

Users can see whether a requisition will go to buyer action, before approvals, by checking the approval chain. Coupa displays a red note for Buyer Action, before the rest of the approval path.
